

Family Therapy Training Institute

Faculty

Jared Balmer, Ph.D.

Jared completed a M.Ed. in Educational Psychology and a Ph.D. in Marriage and Family Therapy, both from Brigham Young University. His post-doctoral internship included extensive training with the late Milton H. Erickson, M.D., and Ray Becvar, Ph.D. in strategic therapy. Jared has taught as an adjunct faculty member at Brigham Young University, St. Louis University, and the University of Missouri at St. Louis (UMSL). He was a founding member of the St. Louis Family Institute. Jared has published a number of professional articles and lectures on adolescent treatment-related topics to lay and professional audiences nationwide. He is the co-founder of WayPoint Academy, a specialty RTC for the treatment of Anxiety.

Mike Bulloch, LCSW

Mike earned an MSW from Our Lady of the Lake University in San Antonio, Texas. He has more than 20 years of direct clinical practice as a therapist working with adolescents and their families. His diverse professional background includes serving as the clinical director for two prominent residential treatment programs and a therapeutic boarding school, as well as co-founding a specialty psychiatric hospital for teens with complex emotional and medical needs. While serving in these positions, Mike provided training and oversight for each program's therapeutic team and further enhanced clinical services. He has lecture and provided workshop on a number of clinical issues nation-wide. Mike is the co-founder of WayPoint Academy, a residential treatment centers for boys suffering from sever anxiety disorders.

John Hall, LMFT

John received his master's degree in Marriage and Family Therapy from Abilene Christian University and received a certificate from the Mental Research Institute. John has published in multiple professional journals including the Journal of Therapeutic Schools and Program and is a member of the editorial board of the JTSP, having served previously as guest editor for the journal. In addition, John currently serves as the Chair of the NATSAP Research Committee. He has published a chapter in a recent textbook for marriage and family therapy. John has lectured, provide presentations, and provided workshops to professional audiences across the country, including NATSAP, YATA, and others. He is the Director of Research and Development and Chief Quality Officer at TELOS RTC.

Richard Meeves, Ph.D.

Rick earned his M.A. degree in Human Development/MFT from the University of Nebraska and his Ph.D. from Brigham Young University in Marriage and Family Therapy. Rick has a rich history of clinical work that started as a field therapist in an Outdoor Behavioral Health setting. He later became the CEO/founder/owner of Outback Therapeutic Expeditions which he sold to Aspen Education Group. He continued to serve as the Executive Director until 2011. As part of the exit strategy he later served as the National Director of Clinical Services for the CRC Health Group. For the past six years, Rick served as the Regional Vice President overseeing 6 youth treatment programs in Utah and Arizona.

Craig Rodabough, LMFT

Craig received his master's degree in Marriage and Family Therapy from Brigham Young University. Craig has a rich history of providing family therapy in a number of residential settings ranging from Residential Treatment Centers to Psychiatric Hospitals. Across these settings, Craig's has a wide range of professional and clinical experiences. Those include, staff therapist, clinical team leader, clinical director, director of parent education including webinars and skill training. Craig has served for many years on the NATSAP Board of Directors in various capacities. He is currently serving on the Board of Directors for the Utah MFT Association. He has provided workshops and presentations at NATAP and IECA. Craig currently serves as the Clinical Director of Kolob Canyon RTC.

John Stewart, LCSW

John received his master's degree from Brigham Young University School of Social Work along with courses from the Marriage and Family department. In addition to traditional Systems work, John has coupled Experiential therapy with Family System Therapy. John has presented a number of workshops at NATSAP conferences on Family Trauma and Healing Strategies. His vast experience includes over 200 hours in multi-family therapy groups. He is the Chief Executive Officer of New Haven Residential Treatment Center, serving young women histories of trauma and other comorbid diagnosis.